Mary Ruby Apparel in Kings-Pointe Village, 61st Street and Yale Avenue, is hosting a trunk show of local purse designer Ellen Medlock's bags now through May 1.

The show consists of her first six limited-edition creations, said Medlock, who never remakes a design twice.

"I am basically a fabric addict," joked Medlock. Made with vibrant, perky fabrics, her bags feature cell-phone and zippered pockets, and a slip. Each one has its own name, too, like the "Cha Cha Garden" bag, as well as "Spring Break," "Retro Geometry," "Sunny Day," "Cocoa Kaleidoscope" and "Classic Karma." Prices range from $49-$79.
